- Kristen noted that new courses may be coming for approval since they need to be developed far enough in advance to receive transferability prior to being offered by the college. The normal deadline for development of new courses as part of programs is December. The new courses would be stand-alone initially and then put as part of a program once transferability is received.
- Dixie is working with the programmers of CurricUNET to include "Activity Lab" as noted in the revised AP 4020 for credit calculations. The COR will then contain each of the three approved types of student contact hours, out-of-class hours, and total student learning hours.
